

A woman with blonde hair, wearing a red long-sleeved shirt and dark pants, is sitting on a thick, horizontal tree branch. She is smiling and looking towards the camera. The background shows green foliage and a clear sky. A large, bright orange with a single green leaf is superimposed over the top right portion of the image, partially overlapping the text.

EXPLORING THE SOUTHEAST is the fourth book in the five-book "Maverick Series." Previous books told about our RV travels across Canada, the Western states, Mexico and the Southwest. This book shares our travel adventures in the Southeastern states. Five winters were spent on an island off the Southwest coast of Florida. Here we explored waterways deep in the Ten Thousand Island area, and remote, white sand beaches in the Gulf of Mexico. Each outing brought surprises and new discoveries. Also included are stories of interesting stops all across Texas, as well as in many other Southeastern states.

Born in Minnesota, while married with four children, I earned a Master's Degree in Art. While teaching 700 students weekly at a school in Wisconsin, I frequently submitted articles regarding our more unique projects to a National monthly magazine for art educators. All of my articles were published. In 1979, the family grown, we retired early and began a fulltime RV lifestyle, traveling across the United States, Canada and Mexico for the next 25 years. I am now finally finding time to share our adventures. Our home base is in Benson, Arizona, but we still enjoy traveling whenever possible.
